Your Excellency,

I wish to express condolences to you and your nation on the loss of your distinguished former President, H.E. Benjamin William Mkapa. In reading about his long and distinguished career, one cannot help but notice the focus on peace-making, empowering the less fortunate, and providing critical services to those in greatest need. Surely his legacy will live on in your nation, especially through the Foundation named in his honour.

We hope that his contributions to Tanzania, and to the entire continent of Africa, will inspire future generations to take up service to humankind.

With sincere sympathies,

David Freeman

I was saddened to hear about the passing of His Excellency, Mr. Benjamin William Mkapa, Tanzania's 3rd President. Mr. Mkapa devoted his life to his people, serving in Tanzania and overseas in a multitude of positions, including a decade as President. His passion for health and education continued even after leaving his formal role and that is another sign of his dedication. Mr. Mkapa was also a Pan-Africanist and a humanitarian who took on a multitude of tasks including promotion of peace, development, humanitarian assistance and the environment. His tireless work for his continent and other nations will be remembered. I am sure that his legacy will live on. I send my condolences to the family and the People of Tanzania.

Excellency,

On behalf of the Embassy of the Philippines, I express our deepest condolences to the people of Tanzania on the passing of His Excellency Benjamin William Mkapa, the Third President of the United Republic of Tanzania.

President Mkapa was a towering figure not only in his country, but across the region for his compassion, sense of justice, and contribution to peace-building efforts. A former diplomat himself, he will be remembered in the international community for his efforts to strengthen democratic institutions and processes, eradicate poverty, and bring about economic reform. For the Philippines, one of his most memorable legacies will be his compassionate welcome of refugees fleeing internal conflict from other countries - a concrete gesture of his, and Tanzania's, commitment to upholding the value of human life.

We extend, as well, our profound sympathies to his family and loved ones, and join them in praying for his peaceful repose.

Yours sincerely,

SID Israel Message of condolences on the passing of his Excellency Benjamin William Mkapa, third President of the United Republic of Tanzania

We are saddened to learn of the death of the Third President of the United Republic of Tanzania Benjamin William Mkapa. On behalf of the Society for International Development-Israel, I would like to send our deep condolences to the family and the people of the United Republic of Tanzania for their loss.

Former President Mkapa was a respected leader in the international community. He was a man whose career was devoted to the people of Tanzania: not only as president, but also as a journalist, lawmaker, and humanitarian. He was a skilled diplomat who overcame many challenges in order to better the lives of the Tanzanian people and the global community. From transforming the United Republic of Tanzania into a free market economy to mediating conflicts in Kenya and Burundi, he leaves behind a rich legacy.

He will be dearly missed.

Sincerely,
